

TABLE OF CONTENTS

BECOMING CLASS AND BECOMING SOCIETY: THE LABOUR'S STRUGGLES AND RIGHTS IN THE BRAZILIAN FORMATION	7
Cibele Saliba Rizek
ABSTRACT	17
INTRODUCTION	19
CHAPTER I
THE WORKING CLASS AND ITS DIFFERENCES: RIGHTS AT ISSUE, SOCIETY AT ISSUE (1906-1929)	35
I. Becoming proletarian: crossroads of new and old experiences	36
II. Factory work experiences: differences and similarities	54
III. The sources of working-class heterogeneity	62
IV. The emergence of the class (1917-1929)	72
CHAPTER II
A RIGHT TO THE SUN: THE WORLD OF LABOUR AND THE STRUGGLE FOR JUSTICE (1930-1934)	85
I. Privileges and inequality	85
II. The Redeeming Power: The Ministry of Labour and Workers' Rights	98
III. Women and children	109
IV. The Eight-Hour Day: the oldest demand	118

CHAPTER III

MERELY POLITICAL INCIDENTS – WORKERS’ RIGHTS: UNION STRUGGLES (1930-1939) 125

- I. Labour rights and trade union laws 125
- II. The effectiveness of the social laws and labour rights 138
- III. Workers' rights in institutional politics: the 1934 Constitutional Assembly and the constitutional period 145
- IV. The textile industry and the entrepreneurs' use of the social laws 157

CHAPTER IV

THE AGENTES OF PUBLIC LIFE (1939-1944) 163

- I. The destruction of the public realm 163
- II. Individual Solitude and Mass Spectacle 175
- III. Minimum wage and patterns of working-class Life 181

CHAPTER V

THE CULTURAL AND MATERIAL HERITAGE: REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY AND SOCIAL RIGHTS (1945-1950) 199

- I. Political and social crisis; government and social protest 199
- II. Street politics: a defence of social rights 213
- III. The 1946 strike wave: working-class organization at issue 217
- IV. The unsolved patterns of factory exploitation: old themes old struggles 230

CONCLUSION 243

APPENDIX 247

BIBLIOGRAPHY 253

